It's Nice To Be Able To Count On You

"Consistency is the true foundation of trust.
Either keep your promises or do not make them."

Roy T. Bennett

In a year that has daily thrown wrenches in plans and made chaos out of order, there's a lot to be said for consistency. Far from a hobgoblin of little minds, consistency has been an anchor to the comfort of what we once considered normal.

As we've served a rising number of clients here at Circle of Concern, the goal of maintaining consistency has been a cornerstone of every program decision we've made. When CDC safety guidelines demanded we rethink how we implemented Holiday Adoption without large gatherings, we looked for a way to provide a consistent value of gifts with gift cards to each member of our clients' families. Keeping a consistent distribution of scholarships to graduating high school seniors led us to a series of ZOOM interviews with remote-learning students. Cancelled and postponed food drives in the community has meant smaller food drives, but targeted requests for pantry items and careful ordering of purchased food have assured that our client families receive a consistent amount and variety of foods when they come to Circle.

That consistency is appreciated by our clients. As one woman said as she got a large supply of regular groceries plus a turkey and holiday foods in November, "I was worried you wouldn't be able to help with Thanksgiving dinner this year. It's nice to be able to count on you when we need you so much."

We can say the same to you. It's nice to be able to count on you, on our community, to meet these very real needs of our neighbors. Fear of illness, of running out of money, of hunger is a fact of life for the 750 families who come to us each month, and your support of our programs has allowed our clients to trust they will get relief here.

If you've been a friend to Circle over the course of our 54 year history, you have helped foster that trust. If you are a new donor, welcome to a Circle of support our neighbors know they can rely on. We thank you and, consistently, our clients thank you, too.

A Note from Cyndi

There are those moments that forever change the way you think. I had such an occasion a few weeks ago. Oprah would say I had an "Aha moment."

I was in the warehouse, working with our volunteers to sort through the sea of food donations that had arrived just before the holidays. Our pantry director, Michelle Lepak, and client services director, Niki Vandable, came through the door. We had helped a new client family earlier that day, and the mother sent an email – a heartfelt thank you. Michelle and Niki waited for my reaction to the note.

The mother explained that both she and her husband had lost their jobs due to Covid-related cutbacks. Unemployment had run out for one, and the other was receiving just over $100 each week. Because there was so little food in the house, the children were staying with a family member.

Now, however, the family had food, and Mom was elated. "I cannot explain how happy I am," she said. "I love to cook and can really make what you gave us last. Thank you so incredibly much. Know that when I pick (my children) up tomorrow that it is because of you."

Her words struck me. The hopefulness and excitement, despite the challenges that lie ahead for her family, jumped from the page. Her graciousness – it was important to her that we know we had made things better.

Finally, the simple idea that food—nutritious, filling food—can help a family to be together.

Of course sharing food is the biggest part of what we do here at Circle of Concern, but that is just one of our many programs. When speaking about our services, I often share that our rent and utility assistance program can keep a family safe and together, under one roof. I am reminded that food can do the same.

We are deeply grateful for the extraordinary ways you stepped forward to help others this past year. Please know that you are an integral part of keeping families together.

A Cup Raised to Mae

If you ever sported your fanciest hat to take tea with Circle – or if you've received a cookie and a tea bag in the mail for a virtual tea – you've enjoyed the handiwork of our long-time friend, Mae Hudson. With fellow volunteer Gloria Van Dover and their friends from Delta Tau sorority, Mae was passionate about collecting money and other items for distribution to Circle's clients, and her tea was a such a fun way to do it.

Mae passed away recently, and, with her family and friends, we are missing her very much. Please join us in raising a cuppa in her honor and in honor of all those we are missing this year.

3 QUESTIONS

Our Donors Ask the Most... With Answers!

1

What is happening to your number of clients during the pandemic?

Circle is seeing a significant rise in our client roster. At the start of 2020, we served approximately 600 families each month. We are now seeing as many as 750 families. We expect that number to go much higher.

Does Circle get government grants?

We receive very little government funding. Our donors are almost entirely local households, businesses and foundations.

What do you need the most?

Foodwise, we post a list of needed items on our homepage at circleofconcern.org, and it usually includes things like cereal, pasta sauce and PB&J. We also need funding to purchase fresh foods for clients and to assist the rising tide of clients who can't pay all their utilities or rent. The biggest thing we need is you – to share support and to tell your friends about us!

What do you want to know about Circle?

Like us on Facebook and watch our homepage at circleofconcern.org for our food needs.

Our friends filled our warehouse to bursting at the end of 2020, for which we are so grateful. By the beginning of March, though, much of that food will be in the hands of our clients, and our shelves will empty. Thank you for keeping tabs on foods our clients need.

A Legacy of Care

The future can change in an instant, but planning gives comfort in a changing world. If estate planning is on your 2021 calendar—and if you trust Circle of Concern to care for our neighbors—will you consider including Circle in your will or trust? For more information about how to extend your legacy of care into the future, please talk to your financial planner or contact cyndi@circleofconcern.org.

Take Credit

Our friends mostly give to assist their neighbors-in-need. Happily, some gifts to Circle also qualify for an incentive to encourage giving.

Monetary gifts to Circle, as well as food donations, may qualify you for the Missouri Food Pantry Tax Credit. This easy-to-claim 50 percent tax credit program reduces your Missouri income tax bill and makes it easier to feed Circle families. Contact juliet@circleofconcern.org for more information about limits and how to claim your credit.

Food Drive Today!

Some of our most visible volunteers are those who hold food drives or third-party events in their neighborhoods, places of work, schools and in the community. If you are planning to collect food and personal care items for the clients of Circle, maybe we can help with tools to promote it. Contact stephanie@circleofconcern.org to request:

- Personalized Sign Templates
- Digital Signage
- Circle Info Sheets
- Food Drive Tips
- Tabletop Flyers
- Social Media Promotion

Will you take a Required Minimum Distribution from your IRA this year? Please consider giving that RMD as a Qualified Charitable Distribution to Circle. The families we serve will be grateful!

Circle Clients Speak

"What a feeling of calmness,
knowing there
are people who care and help."

"I'm thankful for
those of you who have kept the blessing alive at Circle thru these trying times."

"Your smiling faces
and helping hands
are contagious. Your dedication shines bright.
I want to celebrate the positive effect you and your organization
have on others."

Circle's inclement weather policy is usually tied to whether the three school districts in our area – Parkway, Rockwood, Valley Park – are closing. If schools are doing remote-learning, it might not be so easy to tell. If snowy or icy weather is forecast and you have plans to be at Circle, the best way to see if we are open is to call Circle at 636.861.2623 and press "8" or check our Facebook page. We will also update our website and alert local TV stations.

Stay safe out there!

OUR MISSION:

Circle of Concern feeds the hungry and provides assistance to low-income families living in west St. Louis County.
